VCI EMITTER

Wrapped around your business

Product description

It is an anti-corrosion polyethylene foam polyethylene treated with VCI, effective on both sides, resistant to abrasion, odorless, dry and recyclable. Ideal for small parts that need protection against rust. Any color change does not affect the performance of the VCI. Enactment and effectiveness on both sides.

Technical data

Dosage is influenced by many factors including preparation of packaged pieces, packaging configuration, logistic processes, etc. Clearly the more the piece to be packed is near the emitter, the better is the effectiveness of the anti-corrosion protection.
